European Biochar Certificate

Our prices are as sustainable as biochar.

Fees	Prices (EUR)	per
Registration fee (one-time)	400.–	operator

Covers the initial European Biochar Certificate (EBC) audit (by video conference, Ithaka Institute for Carbon Strategies), registration, and production of your personal certification manual that sets out your company-specific parameters for quality assurance and sampling.

European Biochar Certificate (EBC) label fee for biochar producers (annual)	300.–	operator
Per tonne in excess of 300 tonnes annual production	1.–	tonne

Covers the costs of method development, formulation of guidelines, data management, translations, training of inspectors, samplers and quality managers, brand registration, licence fees, IT, accreditation of laboratories and communication.

European Biochar Certificate (EBC) label fee for biochar processors and sellers (annual)	200.– to 400.–	operator
--	----------------	----------

Processors and sellers also contribute to method development and the formulation of guidelines. Reductions are offered for members of the European Biochar Industry Consortium (EBI). Please contact the EBI for current prices.

Sampling and analysis	Prices (EUR)	per
Sampler training (one-time)	400.–	training course

Training and testing for European Biochar Certificate (EBC) biochar sampling – entitles the participant to take biochar samples for EBC analysis. Otherwise, the sampling must be performed by an external accredited sampler.

Biochar analysis	700.– to 900.–	analysis

Per production batch, at least once a year, performed and invoiced by EBC-accredited laboratories (depending on usage class).

Inspection and certification	Prices (EUR)
Inspection and certification (annual)	1200.– to 1900.–

Inspection and certification are performed and invoiced by bio.inspecta. You will receive your individual quotation as soon as you register with us as a producer.

Prices for preparing for the inspection, performing it and certifying the produced batches vary according to the business concerned and its location. Prices are set out in the current version of bio.inspecta's international price list.

The prices quoted are an approximate guide to annual costs.

Subject to change without notice. Customers residing in Switzerland or Liechtenstein are subject to value added tax of 7.7%. Payment terms: 30 days net.
