

Publication of new methodologies

This chapter describes the workflow for publication of new methodologies.

The process is carried out by CSI and after instigation by CSI.

Step 1 – Submission of new methodology

For each new methodology the template 26_104 has to be filled in and send to standard@carbon-standards.com.

Step 2 – Expert consultation

The scientific management searches experts in the respective market who have knowledge about the specific topic and decides who will be involved in the evaluation of the methodology. The first version of the methodology is sent to the selected experts and any stakeholders and is proofread and commented on by them. The comments of the experts are reviewed by the scientific management and commented on by the latter. The scientific management will create a final version for publication.

Step 3 - Publication

The final version is published on the website and communicated to the addressees of the newsletter of CSI.
